

Container Recipe

“Spring Fever”

The Blue Crocus will herald the imminent arrival of spring and as they fade and the days draw out; they will be replaced with the golden heads of the Tete a Tete Narcissi.

Then even before the Narcissi have gone the pot will be alive with the vibrant variegated foliage of Tulip Red Riding Hood, which eventually turns into a blaze of flame red flowers.

Planting the Container

Ingredients: -

35cm Terracotta Bell Pot
Good Quality Multi-Purpose Compost
Crocks / Gravel
3 x Terracotta Pot Feet

Bulbs and Plants: -

30 x Blue Crocus
12 x Narcissi Tete a Tete
10 x Dwarf Tulip Red Riding Hood
6 x Winter Flowering Pansies

Recipe: -

- 1) Place 50mm of crock / gravel in the base of the terracotta pot for drainage.
- 2) Fill the pot halfway with multi-purpose compost.
- 3) Place the Tulips upright and spaced evenly on the surface of the compost.
- 4) Cover with compost carefully, leaving just the tips showing.
- 5) Place the Tete a Tete upright and spaced evenly on the surface of the compost.
- 6) Cover with compost carefully, leaving just the tips showing.
- 7) Place the Crocus upright and spaced evenly on the surface of the compost
- 8) Cover with compost carefully, leaving just the tips showing.

Aftercare:

Prevent the pot from becoming waterlogged by standing in a sheltered spot and raised from the ground with terracotta pot feet.

After flowering feed the plants with potash feed and let the leaves die back naturally. When all the leaves have died back, lift the bulbs and plant out in the garden ready for flowering next year.